Release note August/September 2026

2026-10-19 - Gabriella Eriksson - Release notes

We're continuing to improve the details that make everyday work in Learnifier a little easier and smoother. Here are some of the latest improvements.

Better overview for managers across portals

Managers can now see participants' progress and awards across multiple portals, even if the manager structure is only set up in one of them. This provides a more complete view of the team's learning when participants use multiple portals.

Fewer clicks in large participant lists

Working with a large number of participants? You can now select an entire page of participants at once instead of selecting them one by one. We've also improved the navigation so you keep your position in the participant list when participant data is refreshed.

More improvements

- Discussions and comments
  Improved link handling makes it easier to open links directly from discussions and comments.

- Welcome emails
  Improved language handling provides new users with a more consistent experience based on the organisation's selected language.

- Event times
  Clearer and more consistent display of start and end times in course previews and the course player.

- Text formatting
  Improved link formatting in the learner view, so selected colours are displayed more consistently.

- Navigation
  Smoother navigation between different levels of the learner view.

- Certificates and diplomas
  Clearer and more consistent use of icons across Admin and Learner views.

- Swedish learner interface
  Clearer and more consistent terminology when unenrolling from courses.

- Email domains
  Improved handling and validation of blocked email domains.
