Experience our new Team View

2025-07-01 - Gabriella Eriksson - Product Highlight

Managers play a crucial role in making learning a natural part of everyday work.

With the right tools, they can support, prioritise, and follow up on learning so it becomes more than just another task on a to-do list. When managers are engaged, both employees and the organisation grow.

That's why we are taking Team View to the next level!

How we're making Team View better:

New design and improved interface, including:

- A more modern and intuitive user interface
- Clearer visual structure for managing multiple teams

More functionality, including:

- Managers can unenroll individual team members from specific courses
- Better overview of course status and awards for each team member
- Quick access to actions like enrolment and adding to waitlists

Data-driven insights, including:

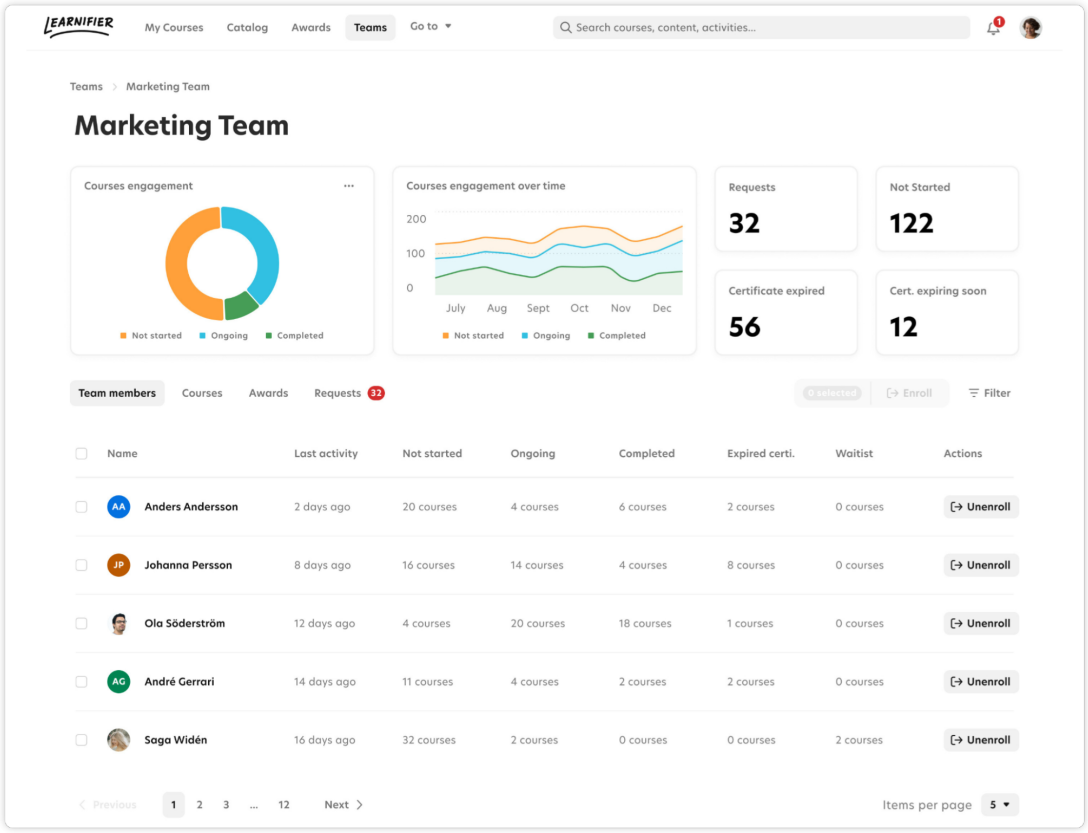

- Dashboards showing learning trends and progress over time
- Tools to identify barriers and patterns in participation and course completion

Start exploring the new team view today

The improvements will be rolled out gradually so you can discover and use new features step by step. The toggle under the main menu lets you switch between the current and the new experience whenever you like.

Try it out and let us know what you think. Your feedback is invaluable as we keep refining Team View together.

> Don't have Team View but want managers in your organization to have better opportunities to track and drive learning in their teams?
>
> Contact us at support@learnifier.com and we'll tell you more.

Please note that the image shows an early version – the final appearance may change.