AI-powered course creation: turn existing material into structured learning

2026-03-31 - Gabriella Eriksson - Product Highlight

Convert internal policies or onboarding materials into structured course drafts, ready to review and refine.

AI-powered course creation in Learnifier helps you go from documents or ideas to a structured course much faster. By providing inputs such as purpose, learning objectives, target group, tone, and length, you get a complete first draft to build on.

Include materials such as PowerPoint presentations, Word documents, or PDFs, and the AI will use them to generate a clear course structure with relevant content, giving you a strong starting point instead of a blank page.

This reduces the time and effort needed to create training, while making it easier to keep courses consistent and aligned with your goals.

AI-powered course creation helps you:

- Turn existing documents into course drafts automatically
- Create courses faster with less manual work
- Ensure a more consistent structure across training
- Focus on refining content instead of building from scratch
